The Institute.

The Teachers' Institute for Pocahontas county is in session, at the public school building. Nearly one hundred teachers are in attendance and in spite of the extremely hot weather, the week seems to be one of interest and profit to the teachers, as well as to the rest of us, who look forward with pleasure to the week of the Teachers' Institute.

The instructors are Professor Wright Denny, Superintendent of the Charlestown Schools, and Prof. W. M. Foulk, Superintendent of the Huntington Schools. They are practical school men, whose experience and common sense views of the problems of education with which the teacher has to deal, will be of value to teachers.

Heading the roll is the name of John S. Moore, the veteran teacher, who for more than forty years has been laboring in the school rooms of Pocahontas county. He is as keenly interested as any of them and few questions arise upon which his opinion and advice are not sought, and cheerfully given. It may not be beside the subject to remark however that after all these years of useful labor and ripe experience, he has to go before the examiners again this year to have his qualifications as a teacher passed upon.

Among the more prominent visitors to the Institute was Prof. Trotter, of the University. He was here Tuesday, and took a prominent part in the discussions.

On Monday night, Professor Little of the University, interested and entertained the institute with his remarkable talent as an artist in chalk. While on Tuesday night Prof. Amos L. Herold, of McGuire's school of Richmond, a former member of the Institute address. Wednesday night was given over to a fine musicale by the Marlinton Band.

In the Institute manual is a full page picture of an old log school house in Pocahontas county and the fine new, two room structure which has recently replaced it. By an error the town of Seebert is given the credit for this fine school, for the school is situated the up-to-date, prosperous farming and grazing community of Lobelia.

The teachers in attendance are:

Hunter & Echols Insurance Agency

INCORPORATED
GENERAL INSURANCE

Don't ask the VALUE of any kind of Insurance—we might be prejudiced in its favor. If you would know the value of Life Insurance ask a widow with several small children. If you would know the value of Fire Insurance, ask a man whose property has been destroyed by fire. If you would know the value of Accident Insurance, ask man who is laid up with a broken leg.

But ask us the cost of any kind of Insurance and we'll be glad to show you how well we can serve you. We can get the right kind for you in a company of proved trustworthiness that pays honest losses in full. Why not see us about it Today.

Dunmore.

The weather is fine, and hay and oats harvest is in full blast.

One republican is delighted over the Republican primary.

Miss Isabel Heatherly, of Elkins, is visiting in town.

John E. Gum is preparing to build a fine dwelling house in Greenbank. Oil and gas will boom a town.

H. E. Nixon and family and S. R. Pritchard and family all spent Sunday in town.

Dr. Chapman, D. D., and family are at Greenbank.

Dr. L. L. Little and wife returned home Saturday after a week's visit among friends.

John Sheets and his boys are in the Levels making hay on the old Benck farm, lately bought by Samuel Sheets. He also bought the Capt. W. L. McNeal property in Hillsboro.

Mr. Reed has bought the Sheets property in Greenbank.

Dr. J. D. Arbuckle is perfuming his Deer Creek farm; his new dwelling house is nearly completed.

We would like to see the road machine with wings on in the ford below Greenbank. If any place needs a bridge in this county it is across Deer Creek at G. B. Slavins'. The next flood that comes there will be something doing there.

The oil drillers at Greenbank are making good headway; over 400 feet deep and still going down.

The phone line and the roads are on 'cyanomimus' terms. You can't hear over one nor drive over the other.

A little child of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. DeRan's, aged three months, died at Greenbank Wednesday night. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the neighborhood.

Martin C. Dilley, aged 70 years, died at his home near Dunmore, Thursday night after a short illness. He is survived by his wife, five daughters and four sons, and a very large connection. He has been a member of the church for many years.

A very large crowd was out at Children's Day at Greenbank Sunday.

Mrs. L. E. Campbell is in Highland county on a visit.

New Superintendent.

Announcement has been made of the fact that Prof. L. W. Burns has been appointed superintendent of the Montgomery Preparatory School, and will assume his new position with the beginning of the fall term. He has filled the position of superintendent of the Marlinton Public Schools for several years, and his success there attracted considerable attention to him and eventually got him his new position. He is considered one of the ablest educators in this part of the state. Montgomery News.

Unclaimed Letters

List of letters remaining unclaimed for in this office for the week ending July 30, 1910.
Eak, Mitchell Kenie, Just Koplun, I. Pritt, Mrs. Daisy Shinberry, W. R. Cards: Halley, Russell 2 Adkison, Miss Nona Winger, Miss Ada These letters will be sent to the dead letter office Aug. 13, if not delivered before. In calling for the above say "Advertised" giving date of list.

Impeachment proceedings have been instituted against Wm. Motenheard, a member of the County Court of Kanawha county for accepting bribes. The trial has been set for August 8.

Young Bennett Not Guilty.

Fayetteville, W. Va., Aug. 1.—Romeo Bennett, son of Circuit Judge W. R. Bennett, who on April 17th, of this year, shot and killed Robert Bradford, was acquitted by the jury Monday, after a brief deliberation, and has been discharged by the court.

Young Bennett was put on trial today in the criminal court of Fayette county. An imposing array of legal talent appeared both for the state and the defendant. Geo. Love, prosecutor, was assisted by his brother in the prosecution, while Osenton, Horan, Dillon and Nuckles appeared for the defendant.

It was proven by sworn testimony on the stand that Bradford was a dangerous man and exceedingly quarrelsome. On the other hand, the defense established that young Bennett was an exemplary young man of even temper and quiet habits. There was abundant evidence to substantiate the claim of self-defense.

Much sympathy was expressed for the young man and his family, and the prompt verdict of acquittal is popular wherever the circumstances are known.

Bennett shot Bradford four times on the mountain road when Bradford threatened to kill him. Bradford died instantly, then young Bennett surrendered.

The Republican Senatorial Convention will meet in Webster Springs next Thursday, August 11. The delegates from this county, who are instructed for Dr. J. W. Price are as follows: A. D. Williams, J. M. Paris, Geo. W. Sharp, J. S. Mathews, O. G. Arbogast, H. M. Lockridge, J. W. McCarty, A. J. Cook and W. B. Hill. At this time there is but one other avowed candidate, a man named Loctley from Calhoun county.

In a drunken fight on Elk Monday morning Sam Jackson was dangerously wounded with a knife by Page Hannah. Jackson had cuts on both sides of his face and across his breast. Hannah and Deck Gibson were fighting and Jackson attempted to part them.

In Fayette county, the Democrats have endorsed the county ticket put forward by the Independent Republicans.

Floyd Moore is spending a few days in Marlinton.

At a meeting of the Republican Congressional Committee at Charleston Saturday, a certificate of nomination was issued to Congressman Gaines. Though it was shown that there had been grave irregularities and fraud in conducting the primary in Fayette county, with more than four hundred majority. There was promise of lively developments in the committee meeting, as it had been noised around that an effort had been made by the Gaines faction to declare the seat of committee-man McKeever, of Pocahontas county vacant, but a threat to investigate the corrupt Fayette primary was sufficient to quiet the waters. The new committee will be organized in Charleston next Saturday. O. E. McKeever retains his seat from Pocahontas county. As it now stands the insurgents have a majority of two of the ten members, which will be increased to four when the committee appoints the two members at large.

"This is the last of a fortune of $25,000 W. H. B." In a well trained but trembling hand the foregoing was written on the greenback of a dollar bill gathered in by S. L. Hogsett, assistant cashier of the Bank of Marlinton.

T. S. McNEEL, Trustee.
Swecker Auctioneer.

E. H. Hudson, of Dunmore, sends us a head of oats upon which are two hundred and eight grains and places for other grains which have plucked by birds. This is the largest head he could find in his field, but the general average of grains to the head was from one hundred to one hundred and seventy-five. He imported the seed last year. This is the record so far.

Senator Kidd can not properly be classed among the "wet" senators, as he labored for the passage of the county unit local option law, and was ready to offer the motion to reconsider the vote by which the prohibition amendment was defeated.—T. M. Hare, Superintendent Anti-Saloon League, in American Issue.
